Kenosha Club Holds Annual Dinner, Auction

Approximately 60 members and guests of the Kenosha (Wis.) Coin Club attended the second annual dinner and coin auction April 30.

Highlighting the evening was a discussion by Gene Arneson on his ancient and biblical coins. The talk was illustrated with slides.

John Gehring, president of the group, was master of ceremonies and N. Emory Mischler, chairman.

During the coin auction, the women were presented with gifts which included coin supplies and the men received coins.

The May 5th meeting featured a swap session.

Organized in September 1958, the club has 69 regular members and four junior members. Recently, it has established a small club library for the convenience of its members.

The club meets the first Thursday of each month at Maxwell's 710 55th street.

Officers other than Gehring are: Lincoln Higbie, vice president; Mrs. Robert Stratton, secretary; Irwin Stenger, treasurer; Frank Tribur, sergeant at arms; and Walter Mau, librarian.

Fla. Club Hears Token Discussion

St. Petersburg Coin Club members heard discussions of fractional currency and Waterbury tokens at recent meetings.

Caryl Carper read an article on the tokens edited by Howard E. Davis, past president of the New England Numismatic Association. The fractional currency discussion was led by Earl H. Brown.

British Coin Salvaged

A British penny of the type last minted in 1859 was recovered recently from an unidentified wreck at the Sydney inlet, according to Victoria, B. C., numismatists.

The coin was forwarded to the Smithsonian Institute in Washington for further identification. A Portland skin diver discovered the wreck last year.

1913 Nickel History Told To Calif. Club

A talk on the 1913 Liberty nickel was given May 3 for the Long Beach (Calif.) Coin Club by Morris Jensen.

Jensen's talk included the history of the nickel and was illustrated with a chart showing the original owners of the coins. The chart also showed to whom they were sold, the price and the date of the sale.

During the meeting, a report on the success of the National Coin Week displays was given by Sol Alexander. Each person who displayed coins then gave a short talk on the nature of his display.

Designs for an official seal of the Numismatic Association of Southern California are being requested, according to Ben Williams, president of the Long Beach club. He stated prizes of a $10 and a $5 gold piece are being offered as first and second place awards, respectively.

Also announced were the dates of the California state and the Southern California conventions, Nov. 3, 1960 and March, 1961, respectively.

Officers of the group, other than Williams, are: Sol Alexander, vice president; Lyn Sims, secretary-treasurer; and W. O. Wisslead, Bert Mead, Henry E. Cutting, and James R. Ray, directors.

Leland Howard Orders April 30 Cut-Off Date

could be expected, Howard commented:

"I couldn't speculate . . . You see, your heaviest orders are past us now."

"We have a deluge of orders in November and December," he pointed out; large quantities of orders reach the mint after November 2, the first order acceptance date. They continue to increase during November and December.

As each order arrives at the mint office, the assistant director explained, it is numbered and coins are shipped according to the sequence of this number.

The April 30 cut-off date was the earliest since making of proof sets was resumed in 1950.

In 1957, 1,200,000 sets were minted; orders were not accepted after August that year to establish the earliest previous cut-off date.

In 1958, the mint had "more capacity than orders," the assistant director recalled. In fact, he pointed out that orders received in December were honored.

In 1959, orders were not accepted after late October.

"We could make more proof coins," said Howard, "but they wouldn't be proof coins. Nothing keeps us from polishing up some dies and striking them off, but they wouldn't be up to standard."

"The sad part about it," Howard said, "the true collector—probably a little bit slow getting his order in—will be left out. There are other people with large quantities in their possession."

Total number of proof sets for 1960 then will be 1,700,000. Previous years were: 1959, 1,149,291; 1958, 875,652; 1957, 1,206,783; 1956, 669,384; 1955, 378,200; 1954, 233,300; 1953, 128,800; 1952, 81,980; 1951, 57,500; 1950, 51,336.

New Catalog Released By Canadian Firm

International Coin Company has recently released a new numismatic and philatelic supply catalog.

The 32 page catalog is fully illustrated and is said to be the first extensive and comprehensive catalog with Canadian prices ever produced in Canada.

Listings cover most of the attractive and worthwhile useful items of stamp and coin collectors use.

The International Coin Company, 157 Rupert street, Winnipeg, offers this catalog to Canadian collectors free of charge.

Revisions, additions and complete re-editing of the catalog will be done once each year.

Florida Club Meets Often

The 81 adult members and 19 junior members of the Clearwater (Fla.) Coin Club meet the first and third Mondays of each month at 8 p.m. in the Fort Harrison Hotel, Clearwater.

Organized in September, 1958, the club tries to have exhibits at every meeting.

Junior members of the club will soon hold a juvenile meeting. This meeting will be conducted entirely by the juniors and will include an auction.

The club is also planning a hobby show.

Officers are elected each September. Presently they are: P. L. Hendershot, Clearwater, president; Adrian Brummer, Largo, vice president; Ralph C. Lewis, Clearwater Beach, secretary; and Murray Booth, Indian Rocks Beach, treasurer.

Members of the board of directors are: Mrs. Fern Connell, Clearwater; Curtis McMichael, Clearwater; Melvin D. Runnels, Dunedin; and Leo Zolg, St. Petersburg. Zolg is also auctioneer.

Phila. Strikes Cents In April

Only cents and proof coins were struck at the Philadelphia mint during the month of April it was learned from an unofficial source.

The unusually heavy demand for cents in the East and other parts of the country caused the mint to disregard all other denominations and concentrate all production on cent pieces.

Over 14 million cents were struck in April at Philadelphia. This is an unofficial but reliable report. Official coinage figures are released from the Mint Bureau in Washington after the 20th of the following month.

Proof set coinage amounted to 161,230 sets, also unofficial.

May production at the Philadelphia mint is centered around quarters and half dollars.

New Celina Shop

Coins, proof sets and books are among the merchandise offered at the new Weyandt's Coin, Stamp and Hobby shop, Celina, Ohio.

Opened by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weyandt, the store was started so fellow collectors would not have to go so far for supplies. Weyandt has an extensive coin collection himself.

Pieces of cloth were circulated as money by Germany after World War I. The money was made of two pieces of cloth, oblong shaped, which were printed and then stitched together.

Ancient coins are popular with many blind people because they are large and have high relief features.

Clubs taking part were: The New York Numismatic Club and the coin clubs of Brooklyn, the Bronx, Westchester County, Norwalk, Long Island, Queens County, Bergen County and Newark.

The next convention has been scheduled for May 4 through 7 at the same hotel.

Collectors registering for the convention were given medals and "Keep Me and You'll Never Go Broke" nickels—uncirculated 1960 Denver. Canadian Club Reviews Successful Coin Exhibition

By Harold Don Allen

MONTREAL, Que. — A highly successful National Coin Week exhibition was reviewed during the Montreal Coin Club meeting May 4.

Better known in Canada as "Coin Day," the National Coin Week exhibition offered something to all viewers.

Three 1921 50 cent pieces (each valued at up to $3,200), it was agreed, certainly help. Many of the more than 2,000 visitors expressed special interest in seeing this arch-dean of Canadian rare coins.

For the experienced collector, even more remarkable items were included, such as the $50,000 bill (which exists only as a die proof), and the original copper plates from which this nation's first banknotes were printed 140 years back.

The coins, like thousands of others, were from leading private collections of this area. The $50,000 "bank special" was an obverse proof loaned by its creators, Canadian Bank Note Company, Ltd., Ottawa. The plates were in a special two-case display prepared by Canada's senior bank, the Bank of Montreal.

The exhibition was staged at Montreal's Queen Elizabeth Hotel on Saturday, April 23, marking the opening of National Coin Week in the metropolitan area. Co-operating with the Montreal Coin Club was that organization's French-language counterpart, Association des Numismates de Montreal.

Climax of the exhibition afternoon came with the presentation of the Walter Macklin Award for "best in show" to B. (Sonny) Lewis, for an "outstanding exhibit, beautifully mounted, of Canadian decimal pieces". The drawing for a complete set of Canadian silver dollars, including all recognized varieties, was held.

Second and third awards in the exhibition were won by Jack Lupovitch, past president of the Montreal Coin Club, and Eddy Echenberg, president of the Sherbrooke Coin Club, respectively.

The only item to mar the day's record was the theft of 500 souvenir medals from the car of general chairman Robert Verity. The medals, of anodized aluminum, were of little intrinsic value, but the supply available to interested collectors was thereby reduced. A special striking of 50 pieces in silver had been distributed to members during the day.

Also stolen was a small surplus of souvenir notebooks specially printed by the Bank of Montreal. President Boris de Kochendoerfer, in estimating the attendance at well over 2,000, cited the Coin Day as a "good growth experience" for the club, enabling members to get to know each other by working together, as well as "a first-rate effort in public relations". Heaviest publicity was through English-language private radio stations, two of which gave free "plugs" throughout the previous day, and suburban weekly newspapers, the organizing committee reported.

The Montreal club meets the first Wednesday of each month, 8 p.m., at the Boy Scout provincial headquarters, 2085 Bishop street, Montreal. The public is invited to attend the meetings and a special welcome is extended to visiting coin collectors.

Tennessee Club Project Listed

An exchange of bulletins and news letters with other clubs in Tennessee and Mississippi is the current project of the West Tennessee Collectors' Club with headquarters in Jackson, Tenn.

N. L. Williams, president, said this exchange of communications will help club growth and better serve members by seeing what each club is doing.

The West Tennessee club featured a program by H. Leroy Pope on the display and commentary of Southern railroad notes when it met in the city hall at Jackson.

Luther Mullens, vice president, and J. T. Bailey, secretary, said

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted R. Hammer

Many persons have asked about club auctions, so here goes. We will discuss only the type held by a club, with no dealer or professional involved.

The club auction serves three purposes: helps members get rid of duplicates, adds to the club treasury, helps members augment their collections. A fourth "excuse," which your correspondent feels should be the main reason for an auction, is — entertainment, a few laughs.

A club usually gets a commission of 10 per cent of the amount received. Coins can be brought to a meeting a month in advance of the auction and listed on a mimeographed sheet. They are put on display before the meeting opens and the auctioneer does not hold up the sale while some member who came in late examines the item up for sale at the moment.

Where coins are not brought in a month in advance, they are given to the committee before the meeting. The committee determines the classification as to condition.

The seller may set a minimum amount that he will take for each item submitted. In that case the auctioneer may so announce as the item is put up, and bids start at 5 or 10 per cent above the price fixed. If there is no bid, the auctioneer says, "Passed," and the clerk so notes.

Some rules permit the seller to have one protective bid from the floor. He may make his bid anywhere along the line — at the start or later, if it appears the coin is going to be knocked down for less than he thinks it's worth. There is nothing wrong with this if buyers know about it and know who the seller is.

Having conducted club auctions for more than 20 years, we're convinced that the seller should put no minimum on his lots, and have no protective bid. Over the years, after several auctions, he will find that his coins actually brought more than if he protected them.

A club should not overdo the auctions — certainly not more than half the meetings should have auctions and it's better if there are even fewer.

When there is a program before or after the auction, 35 to 50 lots should be ample, unless the auctioneer is an experienced operator who can move the sale along at a rapid pace.

Perhaps once a year — and not more than a half twice — the entire meeting may be given over to an auction. In that case, he can handle up to 100 lots and still settle up with buyers afterward. A clerk with a list of each numbered item keeps track of the buyers and prices as the sale moves along.

that the club is seeking bigger meeting facilities now that the average attendance is 50 or more.

Jackson, Indian Medal Appears After 20 Years

A silver medal with great significance to Chickasaw Indians, a presentation from President Andrew Jackson, has just come to light after a 20-year search, according to Lloyd W. Costellow, Oklahoma City numismatist.

Cliff Kiersey, of Bromide, who has Chickasaw blood in his veins, inherited the medal. He made its existence public knowledge when he took it to Floyd Maytubby, Chickasaw governor, recently.

Some numismatists believe this is the only medal in existence to be given by President Jackson to a Chickasaw tribal leader during treaty days.

Isaac Alberson — a Chickasaw tribal council finance officer and an Indian in spite of his anglicized name — was the recipient of the medal because he supported an 1830 treaty for the removal of the Indian tribes to Indian territory.

Jackson was reputed to have made the famous statement at this treaty meeting that the Indians would have possession of this new land "as long as grass grows and water runs." (This later was refined to "as grass grows and water flows" for the sake of alliteration.)

The medal was struck in 1829. It bears Old Hickory's face on the obverse with a peace pipe-tomahawk cross and clasped hands on the reverse. One hand is topped by a military cuff; the other sleeve is bare.

Mr. Howard's Edict

If you didn't have your proof set order in before April 30 you are not going to get them. Assistant Mint Director, F. Leland Howard issued an edict on April 30 cancelling all proof set orders received after that date. Only those orders that are on hand at the Philadelphia mint — some 1,700,000 of them — are going to be filled.

Many collectors are going to be loud in their response when they hear of this action. It is not our purpose to question Mr. Howard's legal right to take such action. He has such power and authority.

But we do question his timing and the manner of his announcement. If he had said, even two weeks earlier, that orders would be cut off early this year, as early as April 30; or if he would have said when orders reach 1,700,000 — the limit of the capacity of the machinery — no more orders would be accepted. Either situation would have been satisfactory.

However he did not do this. He was more high-handed. He issued the order on the very day it was to take effect!

Mr. Howard has been around the Mint Bureau long enough to know that collectors are vociferous in their response, and for such an unprecedented action as to cut off proof set orders in April, the reaction will be thunderous.

There are those who will say that 1,700,000 sets are enough to be manufactured in any one year. There are those who will say that any greater number will have the same reaction as the old commemorative half scandals. But haven't all these coins been absorbed into collectors' and dealers' hands?

Again we're not questioning Mr. Howard's right to cut off proof orders, but we think a fairer approach to the problem would not appear as arbitrary as the present action.

The government is operated by and for the people and the public official who flouts his power and authority in the face of the taxpayers is going to experience a reaction. The reaction will come, Mr. Howard, mark my words.

Convention Circuit

Coin conventions have become extremely popular within the last decade. Their appeal stems from several sources. Generally, they are financially successful, people are naturally gregarious, and this is a form of marketing coins.

Every national, regional, state and local organization conducts conventions, shows and meetings. The number of conventions is growing each year.

There seems to be a pattern in the time of the year these are held. Spring and fall are the most popular. Will the field of numismatics emulate other fields, like antiques for example, where the shows are held so often and so close together that a circuit develops?

Imagine, if you will, a convention every weekend for two or three months, twice a year. Dealers who attend every convention will have little time to spend at the office before they have to leave . . . for another convention.

Conventions are grass roots. They bring the coins to the people. But if the present trend of today continues, will we have convention circuits tomorrow?

Texans View Rare German Collection

A rare German collection created interest among members of the Victoria, Texas, Coin Club meeting held recently in the Victoria National bank's town hall.

The board of directors presented recommendations for club by-law changes. An auction was held.

York Club Hears George Hay Kain Jr.

Attorney George Hay Kain Jr. was the speaker at the York (Pa.) Coin Club's monthly meeting on the topic, "The Fun of Collecting Coins."

Fred Machtley presided at the session, held at Rutter Bros. Dairy. An auction was held during the evening.

Letters To The Editor

Congratulations on a terrific magazine, well done. You will have great success. Here's my subscription.

Hans M. F. Schulman
New York City

Enclose check for two years subscription to your great Coin World. Only two copies out and already its tops and a great twin to Linn's Stamp Weekly which I enjoy reading. Great work and thanks to Jim Kelly on his weekly feature of trends of today's coin values.

John Budzyn
Harrison, N. J.

After receiving two complimentary copies of your fine paper, I just had to send you a check for two years subscription and hope for a long and successful venture.

Hershey Bennett
Oak Park, Ill.

"Trends of today's coin values" by Jim Kelly is wonderful. Congratulations on this excellent addition to your coin publication.

Capt. Arthur W. Tuttle
San Diego, Calif.

Please do not send your weekly Coin World to me any more. You are just wasting your time and money. I do not have time to read your paper. I will be lucky to have time to read three other papers I get. Well, do not let me discourage you. I wish you luck. Perhaps, when the other papers expire, I will try yours.

Henry Garber
Louisville, Ky.

Will you please take my ad out as we are swamped with letters wanting to buy. Your newspaper is wonderful and we enjoy it very much.

Vern Squires
Rockford, Ill.

Cancel my ad in the wanted to buy section. Your paper is almost too effective!

Charles Boehm
Argo, Ill.

I enjoyed seeing you in Detroit and wish you good luck in your new project and feel it will be a success. Enclosed is my check for two years and will try to send ads in from time to time.

R. Green
Skokie, Ill.

Congratulations on a very good paper. As all publishing ventures do, it has its mistakes as I am sure you are well aware as editor but it is far superior to anything with which I am personally acquainted at present. Your classified section makes it possible to find something without an infinite search. My one suggestion of a partially critical nature is that I would like to see more articles on various aspects of numismatics such as appear in some of the magazines or journals.

Henry B. Webb
San Antonio, Texas

A short note to express my appreciation for the weekly feature "Trends of today's coin values." To keep abreast of the current values. I have been making a similar chart for months and I know the amount of time involved. Thanks for relieving me of the tedious task and please keep it up. Your weekly certainly should fill a long awaited need in this Clear polyethylene, pliable and guaranteed not to crack or dry out. These long flap envelopes give maximum protection against chemical action which causes tarnish, spotting, etc. Coins can be displayed without exposure. Congratulations on your fine publication. I'm enclosing my subscription for the next year. I already subscribe to Numismatic News and Scrapbook and the reason for subscribing to your paper is because of the Coin Trend columns. This has long been needed and I'm glad you've taken the step forward in doing so. The format is excellent and the type is easy to read.

Larry Fotine
Van Nuys, Calif.

Under the present rising prices of most coins, I believe your weekly paper fills the needs of all numismatists—knowing that advertisements control the life of any paper and also the subscriptions are controlled by the interesting news and editorials of the paper.

H. W. Eslinger
Fair Oaks, Calif.

I feel sure I would join the ranks of your subscribers if I knew for sure that when your paper reached me, it hasn't been "on the street" as the expression goes, for a week like one of your competitors. What are your plans regarding territorial distribution?

L. P. Martin
Melrose, Mass.

(Editor's Note—As soon as we receive our official Second Class mailing permit from the Postoffice department at Washington, plans will be worked out to use this newspaper handling service to time most arrivals on the same day of the week in as many parts of the country as possible. This, of course, is dependent to a great extent on thousands of postal employees in all sections.)

Enclosed is my check for a two year subscription. Much success to you on your venture to put out a weekly coin paper which will be appreciated by both collectors and dealers alike.

Albert Wightman
Morristown, N. J.

I was more than a little pleased to read your enlightening trends section. I fully agree with you that such coins as the 1950-D nickel is much overpriced and should go down. I also agree with most of your other trends.

I truly think you are 100 percent right in showing prices on U.S. proof sets as up. We all know these beautiful coins are very limited strikings and that the U. S. mint permanently brands them collectors coins by charging over twice face value for the elaborate work in producing them.

Earl Schill
Detroit, Mich.

Congratulations. I think you have a winner! We have needed a publication with news of general interest as well as coin prices for a long time.

O. E. Jenkins
National City, Calif.

If you can keep up the pace of Vol. 1, No. 1, you'll not only be good, you'll be great!

David Marvin
New Canaan, Conn.

Congratulations on a job well done. We hope you grow twice as big and are happy to be a charter subscriber.

Ohio Collector Loses Coins During Club Meeting

Over-ambitious coin collectors or under-privileged burglars are among the suspects in a wave of coin thefts reported during the past few weeks.

Don Myers, of St. Paris, Ohio, said his $50 1914-D cent and a 1861 Indian issue cent, value, $7.50, vanished during or immediately after a coin club meeting!

Carl J. Grall, Redondo Beach, Calif., was luckier. His $4,600 coin collection was returned a week after it was stolen—it was found on a neighbor's porch.

Houston, Texas, police are sure one burglar is a collector. He took $24.50 in silver coins from T. J. Spock. He left less valuable coins behind.

A teen-ager's screams at the sight of a burglar failed to save a $47 coin collection at the Willard F. Tschau home, Temple City, Calif. Shirley Ann Tschau, 18, first spotted the intruder.

A $2,000 collection kept in a cigar box disappeared from the home of Harry Hopkins, Biloxi, Miss.

J. R. Wroton's antique shop reported several scarce half dollars, cents and confederate money stolen in New Market, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne W. Coen, San Rafael, Calif., said their thief had a system—he checked every drawer, closet, chest and cabinet. They lost Mexican $2 gold piece, half dimes and cent pieces.

Robert C. Ward, Topeka, Kansas, was disappointed when he went to examine his collection that included coins from Indian cents to silver dollars. Most of it was missing!

A visit to the dentist was capitalized upon by a thief in Boston—he took $8,000 in old coins and jewels from two Bay State road women, Miss Suanne R. Dabney, 74, and Miss Anneliese Gruner, 57, as they kept a dental appointment.

Loren Jones, Indianapolis, reported a collection valued at $2,350 missing. Don Shannon, Sunbury, Ohio ... lost his container of coins at a market. Pauline Thomas, Topeka, Kansas, said her $600 collection disappeared from a dresser drawer.

Another grocery store theft that netted some thief $300 worth of American and foreign coins took place at the Freeport, Texas, Al's Cash and Carry store, according to Abelard A. Gomez.

A daylight burglar and a $95 coin collection loss was reported by Mrs. H. L. Stratton, Hemet, Calif. Collector Tom Nolan, Chicago, said a thief took $1200 worth of 1950-59 proof sets.

A coin collection held in a safe burglars dropped in Wildcat creek near Kokomo, Ind., sent police fishing for recovery.

Jerry Litka, 23, Sutherland, Iowa, pleaded guilty to taking a coin collection belonging to John Cornwell, Ashton.

Sprecher Talk Slated During June

"Collecting Topically" will be the subject of Stanley Sprecher's program at the June meeting of the Austin (Minn.) Coin and Stamp Club.

The club, which was re-established in November, 1954, has 41 regular members and 19 junior members. The July "Potluck Program," will consist of each member bringing some evidence of his interest in collecting. There will be a display of coin and stamp publications. Roger Loecher, the club president, will be in charge of those arrangements.

There are 12 meetings a year which are held the first Tuesday 7:30 p.m., at the Sterling State Bank, community room, 1345 First avenue, South West, Austin, Minn.

During National Coin Week, exhibits are displayed in local store windows and banks. The club cooperates with the annual Hobby Show exhibit.

Numismatic catalogs, files of the Numismatist, other coin publications and Scott stamp catalogs comprise the club library. Officers are elected in December.

Roger Loecher, is president; Eugene White, vice president; E. J. Greening, secretary; Mrs. Harvey Holtz, treasurer; Harvey Holtz, librarian; and J. Mortimer Pugh, historian. All are residents of Austin.

J. F. Dusek Named Alaska Club Pres.

J. Francis Dusek has been named president of the Alaska Coin Club.

Other officers for the 1960 term are Joe Crusey, vice president; Kay McDowell, secretary; and Paul Campbell, treasurer.

By advertising EVERY WEEK, this "bottle neck" in supplying orders can be solved quickly and with a great improvement in customer relations. If you haven't tried this new WEEKLY ADVERTISING program, now is the time!

By signing up for weekly ads, it means the dealer lowers the total cost of his advertising. A "rate holder" ad as small as one inch, appearing every Thursday, guarantees each dealer the low cost, 52-week contract rate for his various sized advertisements as shown below.

FOR $1.40 PER WEEK You Can Buy A 1-Inch Ad For 52 WEEKS BY SIGNING A COIN WORLD ADVERTISING CONTRACT

Already we have a growing number of discriminating coin dealers, who want more for their advertising dollar. They have signed Coin World Advertising Contracts for frequency insertions. Any dealer or supplier using a minimum one-inch Classified Display Advertisement EVERY WEEK for 52 consecutive weeks earns the lowest possible rate for any size display advertisement he wishes to insert at any time during that contract period.

Over 125 Advertising Contracts have already been signed by dealers with Coin World. Many of the original 13-week and 26-week frequency contract holders have already switched to a 52-week frequency contract as they realize the importance of keeping their name and specialty before their buying public EVERY WEEK at such low cost! British Society Advises Change-over To Decimal Coinage, Weights, Measures

"Switch to decimal coinage, weights and measures to save time, money and trouble—and do it quickly!"

This advice to the British government is contained in a 21 month study just completed by the British Society for the Advancement of Science under the direction of Sir Hugh Beaver.

Conversion problems and disadvantages are bound to be terrific, according to the learned society, but industry, commerce, trade and the nation will be saved money, time and labor once the change-over is completed.

Longer delay will mean higher conversion cost in these automation days, the report shows.

A cool $560 million will be needed alone to convert cash registers, slot machines, calculators and bookkeeping equipment. All printed money will be changed in wording.

There will probably be several confused years with two sets of coins circulating and twin price tags on merchandise.

The study of Britain's coinage system is not new—five other ro-al commissions and a separate committee have researched and recommended, but action was always postponed.

In 1849, the silver florin was issued, valued at one-tenth of a pound as a slight concession to conversion, but the stolid Britshers refused its official name and dubbed it a "two-hob" piece or more refined, "two-shilling piece."

Victoria's regime contributed some patterns for decimal coinage but they remained patterns!

The new plan calls for the discontinuance of labrae, solidid and denarii (l, s, d) which stands for pound, shilling and pence, and find new names for the money. "Dollars" and "cents" were not recommended.

Canada has dollars and cents already. India has had the point system for two years. Australia and New Zealand are considering a conversion, and South Africa has decided to change within the next year.

When these changes are completed, only Britain, Nigeria and Ghana will remain among the bigger countries who still use shillings and pence.

Ancient Coins Donated To New Orleans Seminary

A St. Louis coin collector, O. D. Evans, donated a collection of ancient coins and a religious replica to the New Orleans, La. Baptist Theological Seminary in a ceremony held Feb. 18.

Mainly consisting of Roman coins, the collection also contains Biblical coins from ancient cities and some ancient Greek coins. It was formed in a period of three years by Evans, a trustee of the seminary.

The collection is housed in a display case along with other coins belonging to the seminary, notably a Hadrian gold piece, in the library of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, 4110 Seminary place.

Donated with the coin collection was a replica of a breastplate resembling one worn by Aaron, a Jewish priest 1250 B.C. Valued at $21,660, the breastplate is as close a replica as Evans could obtain. He had gems from his collection specially cut and mounted on the replica.

The gem encrusted breastplate will be on permanent display at the American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, Wis., after a short loan to the National Art Gallery.

Mail-order brides are the brunt of a series of jokes and subject for fictional speculation but for a genuine aura of romance, consider the "tobacco brides" of colonial days.

These young ladies were bought and paid for at the going price of 120 pounds of tobacco straight from the ship on which they arrived!

Labeled as "nicotine bridal currency" by numismatic authorities, this means of exchange would probably warrant a whole new series of advertisements if modern-day tobacco companies could develop the right "angle."

The Virginia planters were responsible for the organizing of the first legislative body in America; it was composed of 22 members or "burghesses", two from each "cittie" and large plantation.

One of the first actions of this group was to make important regulations on tobacco, for raising it, shipping it and fixing its value as the legal currency of the colony.

One pound of the best quality was made equal to three shillings; second quality was worth half that sum.

Salaries were provided for the burgesses by a tax of a pound of tobacco on every male inhabitant over 16 years of age.

Meantime, back in England, the Sandys party was working hard "investigating and reforming the abuses by which the colony's progress has been retarded," spreading their enthusiasm, sending ample supplies to America.

These supplies included thousands of their countrymen and women with skilled mechanics of other nationalities to teach new industries.

Sir Edwyn Sandys, champion of the Virginians, himself sent over a thousand of the best sort of people who could be induced to go including the first of many of the "bride emigrations" of good young women who went of their own free will, each to marry the settler who pleased her in an "off-hand" choice.

The husband bound himself to pay 120 pounds of tobacco for her passage, a debt that came before all others.

It was to be assumed that the brides—travel worn from an arduous sea journey, many of them sea-sick victims—took a few days to recover their normal good spirits and excellent states of health. The old Jamestown, Va., church was probably the scene of many "nicotine nuptials."

History records that though there was no pre-nuptial courtship, most of the marriages proved to be happy and Heaven-made.

A Weekly Feature Of 'Coin World'

Trends Of Today's Coin Values

Edited By Jim Kelly
333 W. First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

Attendance at the Metropolitan New York Numismatic Convention

last week and at the Central States Numismatic Society in Detroit the week earlier again indicates to me that there is an increasing and widespread interest in this Trends Department. We were "button-holed" and often asked for many forecasts on an individual issue.

We continually pointed out that our job, as we see it within the scope of the outline as made by the publishers of Coin World, is to report the facts and trends as we can discover them. Like any market report, we can only give you the present situation.

Your own experience in this fascinating and interesting facet of numismatics will have to answer the individual questions as to forecasting. We admit that experience is sometimes costly but we would also point out that "nothing ventured, nothing gained" is also a truism.

We are flattered that so many people whom we met and saw at the two conventions were carrying copies of Coin World or copies of this Trends Department taken from the current issue and were making references to this weekly feature. We will welcome your constructive criticisms and again thank you for the many generous remarks which have come our way in the first month of publication.

We are dedicated to reporting trends as we see and discover them and would like to point out that, as in any other market of commodities or stocks, it is the unexpected which can always change values.

The above 20 shilling sovereign is from the reign of Queen Elizabeth I of England. It is sometimes called Elizabeth's profile portrait.

Queen's Comments Once Declared Money A Monster

Queen Elizabeth I once declared "money is a monster!"

Or so Joseph B. Felt, of Boston, one of America's early currency experts, wrote in his 1839 "An Historical Account of Massachusetts Currency."

Author Felt included Queen Elizabeth's torrid remark in a series of his philosophical comments with which he closed his remarkable book.

He refused to speculate on the proper balance of coin and currency for the United States—he related the question before the nation's monetary experts:

"Is hard money alone, or this and paper together, the best medium of exchange?"

"It is very evident..." wrote Felt, "from the facts already adduced, that no branch of political economy is more difficult than the regulation of money."

Then he related that so annoying to Queen Elizabeth "with all her sound judgment and excellent counsellors, was the management of her metallic currency, that, in excess of her feeling she exclaimed, 'it is a monster!'"

"As a response.... by the tests of civilized nations, may it not be truly said a safe amount of coins, represented by a due proportion of bank notes, is far more convenient and more profitable than any other?" questioned Felt.

Philosopher Felt ended his book with the comment "whatever may be our plans for the safest management of monied affairs.... we are sure the hand of Infinite Benevolence freely proffers intellectual and moral treasures which will survive the wreck of worlds, and be to their possessors, an incorruptible heritage."

"Wisdom to gold prefer, for 'tis much less."

"To make our fortune, than our happiness."

Brass pieces shaped as reptiles, insects, human figures and animals were made by natives of Ashanti, West Africa. The pieces served as weights for gold dust and circulated as money.

History Helps In Deciding Ancient Coins Issue Dates

How are the coins of antiquity dated?

Most experts agree the most obvious means is naturally the external evidence of history.

For example, the coins of Himera must all be earlier than 408 B.C. since in that year the city was utterly destroyed.

The large flat coins of Sybaris for a similar reason belong to a period previous to 510 B.C.

The gold coins of Athens bearing the name of King Mithradates and his partisan, Aristion, must belong to the year 87-86 B.C. when the latter was in power.

And the large 10-drachm piece of Syracuse, of early style, must be the demareteion said to have been struck out of the gift of money made to Demarete by the grateful Carthaginians for her intercession after the defeat of Himera.

The earliest coins of Alabanda in Caria, as shown by their style, are not earlier than the beginning of the second century B.C. They bear a head of Apollo and a Pegasus with an inscription of Alabanda and a magistrate's name.

There exist a number of coins of the same fabric and with the same types but with an inscription of Antioch.

It has been established that in 197 B.C. Antiochus III, after having made himself master of Ephesus, proceeded to plant colonies in various towns of Asia Minor, and in his honor these towns adopted for a time the name of Antioch.

It is reasonable to believe that among them was Alabanda which bore the name of Antiochia for a short time between B.C. 197 and the defeat of Antiochus at the battle of Magnesia in B.C. 190.

After the defeat of Antiochus, Alabanda resumed its original name. It is to this short period of seven or eight years, therefore, that the group of coins with the types of Alabanda and the name of Antioch must be referred.

III. Club Lists Show Attendance

Second place went to Ernie Schultz, also of Springfield, for his display of Abraham Lincoln commemoratives. Lawrence Garr of Armington, Ill., was awarded third place for a display of United States large size notes.

The exhibits contained ancient, foreign, and American coins.

Meetings of the club are held the third Wednesday of each month, 7:30 p.m., at the American Legion Hall.

Waterloo Club Hears Counterfeiting Talk

New York Bank's Collection Contains 336 Silver Dollars

The New York First National City bank's silver dollar collection, assembled for public exhibition and education, contains 336 silver dollars dating from 1486.

It includes reflection of historic events of 173 countries over the last five centuries.

Parkersburg, W. Va., residents had an opportunity to see the exhibit recently when it was displayed in the lobby of the Union Trust and Deposit Co.

The "addies" dollar is among the interesting coins—the silver dollar, dated 1859, was given the nickname during agitation for free silver coinage.

Others are the first dollar struck in Tyrol under the reign of King Maximilian I in 1486, early Spanish pieces, Venetian crowns, Naples coins, Argentinian reals, Chinese dollars, Cyprus piastres, Ecuador sures, French francs, German thalers, Guatemalan reals, Haiti gourdes, Italian liras, Russian rubles and West Indian reals.

The American dollars include the first dollar minted at the New Philadelphia building, the goddess of liberty head with flowing hair tied back. It is known as the "fillet" head.

The peace dollar issued in 1921 to commemorate the arms parley also is in the collection.

Tongue shaped pieces of bone with dragons carved at the top were used as funeral money. The pieces, popular during 1200 B.C., were placed on the tongue of the dead.

Louisville Club Holds Festival

UNCIRCULATED ROLLS

Louisville, Ky., police cooperated with the Louisville Coin Club in furnishing a guard for a $75,000 coin exhibition—the highlight of the spring festival coin show.

Displays ranged from Roman coins bearing likenesses of the 12 Caesars to examples of all the Confederate money ever printed.

Five hundred attended the displays and auction at Henry Clay hotel, officials said.

The Louisville club has a membership of 200, according to Army Lt. Otha Walters.

A father-son combination won two of the three trophies for exhibits. Roy B. Davis Jr. won best in show with a currency and Confederate money collection; his son, Jamie, 12, won the junior trophy for his display of wooden nickels and foreign coins.

Coins in plastic folders won the trophy for the most unusual display for John Stormes.

Letters To The Editors...

I am sure there is a definite need for a coin weekly and have one suggestion to make — a monthly mint report as soon as it's possible to receive and print the information. Best of luck on this venture.

Donald Shupp
Lebanon, Pa.

Thank you for starting a weekly. I do sincerely enjoy it and hope it is a great success. So do all our members. Please, please keep up "Trends of Today's Coin Values." It is a wonderful idea!

Yonnetta DeYoung
Bishop, Calif.

Enclosed is my check for 104 weeks. Looks like you have some good ideas. I think Mr. Kelly is the right man to do your "weekly coin trends." A friend sent me his page from the last edition, hence I got on the ball and sent you my check; was undecided before this. Suggestion: try to control "children's ads."

Laura Lawrence
Seattle, Wash.

I understand your publication is weekly. I think this is fine and will serve a long needed service for those interested in coins. May I also say that your first issue was excellent in every way. Any and all comment on various denominations of coins is another feature that people will like.

Wallace H. Scott
Austin, Texas

Herewith $5 for two years to your new coin weekly. This is the first pulp paper that has ever been of any interest to me. The first two issues were tops and if you can continue to produce comparable issues, a bright future is assured.

Ralph J. Shell
Hickory, N.C.

My sincere congratulations to you and members of your staff. In my opinion, this will be the leader in the numismatic field in the near future. I especially like your set-up in the classified section.

Frank Barrett
Warren, Mich.

Coin World is a cinch! When does the stock go on the market? I hope your editorial policy will incorporate the idea of giving numismatics back to the collector and strive to save our wonderful hobby.

It nauseates me to see ads offering coins minted in 1960 at 150 per cent mark-up (and this is only April) or 1950-D nickels at 5000 per cent mark-up on an artificial market. I have taken a vow—they will never make any off me and I know they do not have near the fun that I do in collecting coins.

H. E. Blakely
Fargo, N. D.

Human hair mixed with clay and pleated was used as an exchange medium by natives of the Tauma Islands. The Australian natives had a similar hair money, they wrapped triodia gum in hair.

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdy manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.
